Devils Tower After Dark

America's National Park Service sites contain many cherished treasures. As darkness falls on Devils Tower, a different kind of light illuminates the night sky. That light comes from objects in deep space, and transforms the night from a place of darkness into a place of wonder. Oral histories about the Tower incorporate tribal star knowledge. Astronomers and night sky photographers seek out the darkness of parks like Devils Tower National Monument, islands of night in an ever-brighter world. What inspiration can you find as you enjoy the darker side of the first national monument? The park offers many great viewing locations as well as hosts night sky programs throughout the year.

Wyoming State Capitol: Cheyenne

After being closed for a four-year restoration and rehabilitation project, the Wyoming Capitol is now open for self-guided tours 8 a.m. - 5 p.m., Monday - Friday. The Capitol has undergone extensive rehabilitation to replace outdated building systems, add critical life safety infrastructure, and address public space needs, especially the need for larger meeting rooms. This invasive work also created the opportunity to restore the Capitol's historic features. The Chamber has been returned to its original size by eliminating a partition wall and reclaiming the two-story volume and public balcony; making it the largest meeting room in the Capitol. A large part of the Convention focused on women's suffrage, a right Wyoming women had held since 1869. It was in this Chamber that representatives enshrined women's suffrage within the Wyoming State Constitution, becoming the first state to do so and making this one of the most historically significant chambers in the country.

Shell Falls Interpretive Site

This beautiful Visitor Center is the perfect stop along the Bighorn Scenic Byway. Look at Shell Falls and walk along the interpretive trail. Over the past million years, Shell Creek has incised a deep chasm through the sedimentary stone and ancient granite. The water of Shell Falls, dropping at a rate of 3,600 gallons per second, follows fractures in the resistant granite. Shell Canyon is named for the shell fossils found in the sedimentary canyon walls. For more in depth information, take a look at: www.sheridanwyoming.org/escape-to-the-mountains/
